Enhanced Social Interaction

Mixed Age Groups

Allows for children to learn from one another, teach one another, and develop life skills such as inclusion and acceptance.

Collaborative Learning

Encourages children to work together, learn from each other, and develop a sense of community and respect for others.

Inclusive Learning

Caters to students with special needs by allowing them to form close connections within the classroom, making for a safe and stable environment in which to learn.

Hands-On Learning

Concrete Object Exploration

Meticulously designed materials lead young learners to the understanding of complex vocabulary and the discovery of abstract ideas through hands-on use.

Individual Pacing

Children progress in their development at their own pace, building on their skill set, and learning individually.

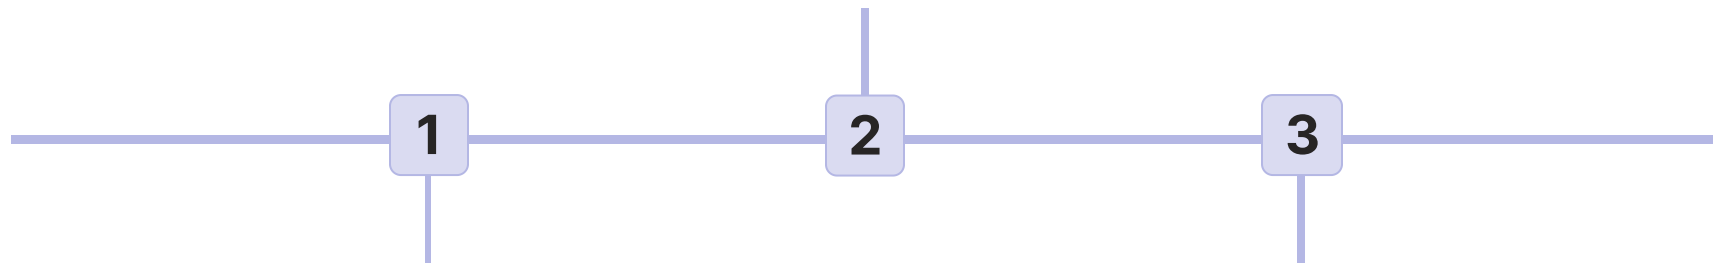

Independence and Confidence

Much of the learning process is self-directed, allowing children to gain a sense of independence and confidence in their abilities.

A Love for Learning

Perseverance

Students develop a passion for learning, which carries with them throughout their lives as they explore, discover, and unravel new knowledge.

Curiosity

Montessorians are perpetually curious about the people and the world around them, seeing learning as an enjoyable life-long process.

Open-Mindedness

With a deep love for learning comes a willingness to unlearn traditional ideas and ways of thinking, paving a way to new possibilities.

An Ideal Environment

Natural Light and Space

Montessori classrooms are designed to be beautiful and accessible, with natural light being a common priority for the illumination of learning environments.

Dedicated and Trained Teachers

Montessori teachers foster independence, continuously make montessori learning materials, and are trained specifically to fully understand each child's unique needs and learning aptitude.

Meticulously Designed Materials

The Montessori learning materials are designed with delicate care, able to introduce complex ideas to young minds in a fun and engaging way.

Independence and Confidence

1

Student-Directed Learning

Students gain a sense of independence and confidence in their abilities much faster than in a traditional school setting.

2

Learning at Executive Level

Montessori education caters towards developing the individual intellectually rather than just through academic performance, helping students become better life-long leaders.

3

Room for Mistakes

Montessori students are allowed to make mistakes and learn from them, allowing them to develop lifelong strengths like resilience and perseverance.

The Integrated Curriculum

Universal Connection

The Montessori curriculum interconnects many subjects to create a more comprehensive understanding of how information can build upon previous knowledge, providing better comprehension, rather than surface learning.

Real-World Applications

Students engage in tasks that allow them to apply classroom learning in a real-world setting, allowing for a more comprehensive understanding of how learning relates to real-world challenges.

Coherent Learning Environment

The Montessori curriculum is well-integrated from a young age, building a strong foundation for students to progress and grow with through secondary education and beyond.

Educating the Whole Child

Physical Well-being

Montessori programs emphasize a culture of health, which enables children to learn habits that keep them healthy and happy.

Emotional Well-being

Montessori education helps students develop an emotional intelligence that allows them to work positively with others.

Creative Thinking

Montessori programs foster imagination and curiosity that allows for the discovery of new ideas and a more creative approach to problem-solving later in life.

Conclusion

1

Positive Impact

Montessori education improves many areas of a child's development, including intellectual, social, physical and emotional.

2

Learn at Their Own Pace

Montessori classrooms allow children to work, develop, and learn at their own individual pace.

3

Not for Everyone

The Montessori Method may not be suitable for every child. As with any educational approach, it's important to consider the individual needs and learning style of each child before making a decision.

Why Acton Academy Columbus

Why Choose Acton Academy Columbus?

Learner-Driven Education

At Acton Academy Columbus, we believe that every child is unique and should have the freedom to follow their own passions and interests. Our learner-driven approach helps students take ownership of their education and find their own paths to success.

Project-Based Learning

We believe that the best way to learn is by doing. That's why we focus on project-based learning, where students work on real-world projects that challenge them to think critically and creatively. Through this approach, students gain valuable skills that they can apply in any area of life.

Real-World Skills

Our goal is to prepare students for the real world, not just for tests. That's why we focus on developing practical skills like communication, problem-solving, and teamwork. By the time our students graduate, they are ready to tackle any challenge that comes their way.
